without a hearing. Have I not, eve: began, constantly shown my devoti< Have I not taken my share in the the internal foe and, as a soldier, a, have sacrificed everything for the re] siege of Toulon with some distinctk I earned my share of laurels at the

Saliceti, you have known me fh you seen in me that is suspect to tl

14th. (To the representatives of herewith you will find my replies t< Since appearing to have forfeited tl my conscience enables me to rema: Is torn, and I feel that, with a a heart, I cannot endure a life that suspicion.

19th. (To Juuot.) I appreciate the offer you wake me, my dear J aince nil the friendship I feel foi can count on it* Men may be ui innocence remains* My conscience nothing; you would only compron

Marrh *fel. 17115, Paris:

(To Jfunot.) You have nothin ant's xhoultlcr-Mtrap. Paulette ha,